

This is life as he knows it.

LIFE AS THEY KNOW IT

Families fighting life-threatening childhood illnesses are forced to deal with traumatic emergency hospitalizations, painful treatments, mounting medical bills, abandoned jobs, stressed marriages, neglected siblings, and friends who sometimes keep their distance because they don't know what to say or how to help.

Yet, with your help, even in what can be a harsh and unforgiving world, these families are able to find the strength, optimism and resilience to find joy in each other and celebrate the gift of another day.

In partnership with photojournalist Marissa Roth, Starlight has captured a powerful group of photo essays that illustrate the journey of hope and pain that families experience when the crisis of childhood illness strikes. We are proud to unveil the first three of these emotionally charged essays to you as part of this annual report.

Read on to better understand what life is like for Starlight families, see how Starlight is making a difference, and appreciate more than ever how organizations and individuals like you are helping us brighten their lives, a little each day.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Friends,

As Starlight's Board Chair and a long-time board member, I have had the honor of getting to know dozens of Starlight families through the years, and have had the chance to speak with them about how Starlight is making a difference.

I can tell you in no uncertain terms, your support for Starlight is changing lives.

With your help, when sick children are scared and lonely, anxious parents are struggling to get through another day, and siblings are feeling forgotten, Starlight is able step in and lift the entire family's spirits — from the moment a child is diagnosed throughout the entire course of treatment.

In the pages that follow, you will meet the Beltran, Gago and Postel families — just a few of the more than 3 million Starlight children, mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters whose days were brighter this year thanks to your generosity.

In a year when many worthy charities had to cut back on their services, your unwavering gifts of time and resources enabled Starlight to become stronger, more impactful and able to reach new levels of service for children and families in need. Together with our chapters and offices, we were able to place 457 Fun Center mobile entertainment centers for hospitals throughout the United States and Canada, host 894 Great Escapes family activities in more than 30 communities, complete the development of a new-and-improved Starbright World social network for seriously ill teens, and expand our Starlight Sites program to include the transformation of cold, dreary hospital treatment facilities into warm, child-friendly care rooms.

Together, we continue to move closer to accomplishing our vision of "every day, everywhere, every family." On behalf of everyone at Starlight, please accept our sincerest gratitude for standing by us every step of the way.

Sincerely,

Ron Leibow

PROGRAMS OVERVIEW

Between April 1, 2009 and March 31, 2010, Starlight continued to offer a unique, comprehensive menu of outpatient, hospital-based and Web offerings that provide ongoing support for children and families — before, during and after medical treatment. These programs included:

- Family activities and outings that give families a chance to have fun together away from the hospital so they can relax, regroup and return home with a renewed sense of strength and hope. The events also forge important connections between families struggling with similar issues to combat feelings of isolation.
- In-hospital entertainment technology that helps kids fill hours in hospitals or treatment centers with therapeutic fun; find distraction during long or painful medical procedures; access Starlight's online educational programs and communities; stay connected with the outside world; and keep up with school work.
- In-hospital playrooms, kid-friendly treatment rooms and celebrations that help ease the loneliness, fear and boredom that accompany hospital stays.
- Online communities and websites that help seriously ill teens connect with each other and find tips and strategies for coping with their medical conditions.
- Educational programming — delivered via online games, ezines, webisodes, a comic book and websites — to help sick children understand common hospital procedures and manage illnesses and injuries such as cancer, sickle cell, cystic fibrosis, asthma, Crohn's and colitis, severe burns and kidney disease.

Studies continue to demonstrate that Starlight's programs help reduce children's pain while helping them to better deal with, understand and manage their illnesses. In addition, Starlight programs help the child, parents and siblings experience less depression, anxiety, pain and isolation and bond as a family.

FISCAL YEAR GOALS

Throughout the United States and Canada, Starlight and its chapters and offices now serve roughly 3 million seriously ill children and their family members per year, or approximately 10 percent of the total number of children and family members affected by life-threatening medical conditions and life-altering injuries. This year, we continued to work to increase the number of individuals served by steadily increasing Starlight's program reach. Specifically, between April 1, 2009 and March 31, 2010, we:

- Increased the number of Fun Center[™] mobile entertainment units and Starlight Site[™] care rooms available to children and families throughout hospitals that serve children, particularly in hospital-based clinics, waiting areas, emergency rooms, medical surgical floors, recovery rooms and isolation rooms.
- Increased the number of families participating in Great Escapes[™] family activities by providing (a) the program in more communities, and (b) more Great Escapes events in communities where the program is currently offered.
- Increased the usage of existing online programs, including the Starbright World[®] online social network and each of the online educational programs.

Starlight's headquarters office and its regional offices accomplished the following*:

PROGRAM	FY 2010 GOAL	ACTUAL	% OF GOAL

LIFE

AS THEY

KNOW IT

LIFE AS MARCELO AND HIS FAMILY KNOW IT

"He was a very independent child, so for him to be dependent on other people has been very hard on him."

- Lela Beltran

For a long time, Marcelo was afraid to leave the house. He would shut down because he couldn't see what was going on, and the voices that surrounded him were overwhelming.

Diagnosed with the rare brain cancer Medulablastoma, Marcelo was rendered blind when he was just 7 years old. The cancer also impaired his motor skills on the left side of his body.

Now 12, Marcelo is learning to see the world again — this time with his hands.

For Marcelo and his family — mother Lela, father Jose, brother Martin, 17, and sisters Gloria, 22, and Yitalia, 14 — the past five years have been an odyssey of surgeries, chemo, proton and radiation therapies, feeding tubes, hospitals and doctors' offices.

"Whenever Marcelo is in the hospital, I stay with him the most," says Lela. "I've missed a lot over the years — homecoming, graduations. It's been hard on all of us, but especially on my kids."

The beloved baby of the family, Marcelo is a born comedian with a whip-smart sense of humor. He is very cuddly with his family, always touching their faces and holding their hands. Lela credits his humor and the family's ability to constantly laugh and be open about his illness with helping them get through some very dark days.

"Just because I'm blind doesn't mean I can't hear you!"

-Marcelo Beltran

She credits Starlight too, for making a difference in her family's life by connecting them to resources and giving them a network of support they can always count on.

"I remember when Marcelo first spent time with other Starlight kids. He couldn't believe it when I told him there were other children there that were bald and in wheelchairs. It opened up a new world to him! With Starlight's help, our little Richard Pryor is finally coming out of his shell in public and starting to return to his old self. People have really noticed a difference — where he used to be completely withdrawn, now he'll crack jokes and go on and on about his experiences with Starlight. My family has also been given the chance to recapture some of the family time we've missed out on and meet other families like ours. My kids have been able to find comfort in the fact that other people are going through the same sorts of things that we are."

Lela says that each year things have gotten a little bit better. Marcelo is still on medication, but is getting used to his new way of life. She tirelessly ferries him across the city for medical appointments, physical therapy, Braille classes and guitar lessons, and he attends a special class for visually impaired students.

A year ago, Marcelo began to walk independently. It's Lela's hope that when he turns 16, he will be able to walk completely on his own with a white cane.

Until then, young Marcelo continues to re-learn how to navigate the world.

LIFE AS JANA AND HER FAMILY KNOW IT

"Thank God I didn't have to bury her."

- Emma Gago

"I should have been dead five times."

- Jana Gago

Jana loves all things girly. She has a serious Barbie doll collection, a penchant for fashion and changes clothes depending on her mood. She believes a well-placed Cinderella decal can enhance just about anything, and is quick to offer to bake cookies.

When you meet her, her femininity and generosity shine through. Then, when you hear her story, you realize that this young woman is also as tough and resilient as they come.

Five years ago, at age 6, Jana went from being a healthy child to almost dying from what doctors later diagnosed as severe aplastic anemia.

"It was Halloween," recalls mother Emma. "We took her to the hospital because she had a fever and was developing strange bruises. She was rushed to the ER, and doctors discovered that her bone marrow was hollow and that she had no platelets or hemoglobin. They started to call her the 'walking dead girl' and had no idea of what was wrong with her."

Emma and her husband Angel literally lived in the hospital with Jana for three years. During that time, the doctors finally attached a diagnosis of severe aplastic anemia, but remained uncertain as to what was causing Jana's condition. Her immune system became entirely compromised and doctors fought to keep her from "bleeding out."

In April of 2007, Jana, with the use of heavy steroids, finally had a successful bone marrow transplant. Still, her health continued to deteriorate.

"My daughter has died five times," Emma shares. "Last year, they told us again that she wasn't going to live, and were preparing to give her opium to ease her final days. And then, suddenly, she began to get better. Doctors couldn't figure it out. I give thanks every day that she is still with us."

"Throughout our ordeal, Starlight has meant so much to us. Jana is uncomfortable around most people, but not other Starlight families. Starlight families didn't stare when she lost all of her hair, or had a line in for feeding or had to take a lot of medications — everyone is in the same boat. The way the Starlight kids talk with one another makes you realize they are in their own little world. They talk about what medications they are taking or what procedures they have to have. During a time when everybody feels alone, Starlight provides us with a support group. Starlight is like glue, holding us all together."

Jana is now home schooled and no longer taking medication — only vitamins. At a recent doctor's visit, she learned that she had grown quite a bit in the last six months and that her vital signs were normal.

"My daughter never complains about pain and believes that she is here for a reason. Our family has seen that there can be a light after illness — we have survived."

LIFE AS KYLEE AND HER FAMILY KNOW IT

"Kylee's the brave one."

- Amy Lomeli, Kylee's 2nd Grade Teacher

"I'm not your baby anymore!"

-Kylee to her parents,
on her 7th birthday

Seven-year-old Kylee is one of those children you'd call a spitfire — that is, until her youthful energy suddenly sputters out. It's then that her pink "Hello Kitty" backpack comes to the rescue. A permanent fixture on her shoulders, in place of the glittery, colorful things you might find in most little girls' backpacks, it carries a packet of nutrient rich milk and high-protein formula that feeds Kylee through a tube inserted directly into her small intestine.

From the day she was born, Kylee has had severe health problems, including digestive issues, seizures, developmental delays, a lazy eyelid and an inability to sweat or regulate her body temperature. Doctors inserted her first feeding tube at 23 months, and she has since had five major surgeries, seven minor surgeries and countless painful and invasive diagnostic tests.

For years, doctors were unable to figure out the cause behind Kylee's symptoms. Then, shortly after her fourth birthday, Kylee's mother Kris connected online with the mother of a boy with mitochondrial disease who found Kylee's symptoms very familiar. After researching mitochondrial disease, Kris thought the mother could be right.

Under the care of one of only five geneticists in the country who specialize in the disorder, a muscle biopsy in 2008 confirmed that Kylee had mitochondrial disease complex III and IV — a genetic disease passed down through maternal DNA that takes more children's lives than cancer. Since 90 percent of the body is made up of mitochondria, the disease affects every muscle and major organ. As it turned out, Kris has a mild version and Kylee's three sisters and brother all show signs in varying degrees. But Kylee is the sickest.

"It definitely hasn't been easy," says Kris. "Our lives revolve around doctors' visits, hospital stays and dealing with insurance companies."

Kris credits their extended Starlight family with making a big difference in their lives.

"From our first Starlight activity, all we could say was 'wow.' We were made to feel both special and like a normal family at the same time. It was the first time outside the hospital that Kylee got to see other kids with medical issues — you don't see many kids around here with a feeding pump! I will never forget when she said, 'Mommy that little boy has a feeding tube like me!' With Starlight children, she got to feel like a regular kid.

"But it isn't just children with a medical condition. All our children recognize that what Starlight does for them is very special. Last summer, they decided to sell cookies in our yard and were thrilled to give the $75 they earned to Starlight to help other families."

At times, Kylee seems weary in the face of yet another hospital visit or procedure. However, most days, in spite of her illness, she embraces life seemingly for the pure joy of it. It's as though she possesses an innate understanding that every day is precious and knows how precarious life can be.

"I've told every other family I know with a seriously ill child about Starlight, because I know the difference it's made in our lives and want others to benefit. Finding an escape from the daily realities that come with serious illness is such an amazing gift — both for our children and for ourselves."

OUR SUPPORTERS

$100,000 AND ABOVE

California Pizza Kitchen

After years of support, California Pizza Kitchen selected Starlight as its national charity partner in 2008. Initially, the company is donating $1 million to Starlight over four years - $250,000 each year. Through the alliance, Starlight and California Pizza Kitchen have created a signature series of CPKids Camp Great Escapes™ providing seriously ill children and their families with the opportunity to 'pause to play.' CPKids Camps have taken place in numerous cities across the country and continue to do so. CPK executives and employees participate as volunteers and do everything they can to make these events extra special. In addition to the camps, several California Pizza Kitchen restaurants have hosted "Make Your Own Pizza" Great Escapes for Starlight's kids and families.

At Starlight's 2010 A Stellar Night gala, CPK's Co-Founders and Co-CEOs Rick Rosenfield and Larry Flax were honored to receive Starlight's Heart of Gold Award for their ongoing commitment to children and families everywhere.

CB Richard Ellis Inc. Foundation

Through its corporate philanthropy program, CBRE Cares, CB Richard Ellis made a total gift of $122,941 to Starlight from April 2009 through March 2010. During 2009, CB Richard Ellis employees were given the opportunity to donate to Starlight and other causes they felt most strongly about, with contributions augmented by the CB Richard Ellis Foundation. Founded in 2003, the CB Richard Ellis Foundation furthers CB Richard Ellis' ideals and its commitment to community and to fostering a culture of giving.

Colgate-Palmolive Company

In its 20th year of partnership with Starlight, this year Colgate-Palmolive Company made a $747,000 gift, which funded the placement of 138 Fun Centers in hospitals around the country. For the third year in a row, as part of the company's commitment to bring Fun Centers to more hospitals, Colgate-Palmolive hosted an online contest in February 2010 encouraging individuals to vote for 20 hospitals nationwide. The online contest invited visitors to "Show the Love" in their community by voting for their local participating hospital. Colgate-Palmolive awarded one Fun Center to all 20 participating hospitals, and an additional unit was awarded to the hospital with the most online votes each day during the month.

In March 2010, Starlight awarded Noel R. Wallace, President, North America and Global Sustainability for Colgate-Palmolive, with its Jacki Carlish Humanitarian Award, to honor Colgate-Palmolive's 20-year commitment to Starlight.

FOREVER 21

Forever 21

In December 2009, Forever 21, Inc. launched a charitable line of T-shirts personally designed by notable celebrities with 100 percent of the proceeds, or 2/3 of the purchase price of the T-shirts, to benefit Starlight. The celebrity designers — Starlight Spokesperson Corbin Bleu, Paris, Nicky and Kathy Hilton, Colbie Caillat, Demi Lovato, and Audrina Patridge — were given art materials to create a unique painting on canvas using the themes of "star" and "light." Forever 21 designers incorporated each celebrity's design onto a cotton T-shirt or tank top. The special line of T-shirts was available for purchase in select Forever 21 stores and online at Forever21.com. The T-shirts retailed for $12.80, which produced a gift of more than $200,000 from Forever 21.

Michaels Stores, Inc.

In 2009, Michaels Stores, Inc., North America's largest arts and crafts specialty retailer, selected Starlight as a national charity partner, donating $100,000 toward Starlight's programs. Employee involvement is at the heart of Michaels' gift, and Starlight and Michaels work together to coordinate employee-led, in-store Great Escapes family activities.

Nestlé

Currently, Starlight teams with Nestlé by focusing on in-store promotions, with the help and support of California Pizza Kitchen. A successful inaugural promotion last year produced a generous gift of $46,000, leading Nestlé and California Pizza Kitchen frozen pizzas to sign on for another in-store promotion this fiscal year — teaming up with Gelson's and Stater Bros. in Southern California, and Save Mart, Lucky and Food Maxx Stores in Northern California. Due to the program's success, this year the donation to Starlight was more than doubled to $100,000.

Nintendo of America Inc.

For 18 years, Nintendo of America Inc. has manufactured and sponsored Starlight Fun Center mobile entertainment units — which currently feature a Nintendo Wii™ gaming system, DVD player and Sharp AQUOS™ LCD television. With the help of Nintendo and other generous donors, 457 Fun Centers were placed this year in hospitals throughout North America, bringing the total to 6,189 currently in use in 1,300 hospitals. Nintendo was also a generous sponsor of the 2010 A Stellar Night gala, including a presenting sponsorship of the Kids' Lounge at the event.

Stater Bros. Supermarkets and Stater Bros. Charities

In 2009, Starlight partnered with Nestlé on an in-store promotion, which took place in all Stater Bros. Supermarkets located in Southern California. Following this successful in-store cause-marketing campaign, Stater Bros. elected to repeat and further expand the campaign in 2010.

In addition, Stater Bros. Charities made a $100,000 donation to Starlight to bring Starlight programs to Loma Linda University Children's Hospital.

Toys "R" Us Children's Fund

In 2009-2010, Toys "R" Us Children's Fund-sponsored Starlight Sites continued to offer a respite to children in hospitals around the country. This year's gift of more than $100,000 provided for the ongoing maintenance of these sites as part of a $7 million, multi-year donation made to Starlight in 2002 by the Toys "R" Us Children's Fund to build and maintain more than 70 Starlight Sites coast-to-coast.

Variety

Starlight was selected as one of two charity beneficiaries of Variety's 2009 Power of Youth initiative that encourages top young talent to become involved with philanthropic and humanitarian causes, using their positions in popular culture to motivate others to do the same.

Variety's 2009 Power of Youth took place in December on the Paramount Studios lot in Los Angeles. The event was full of fun and festivities, with live performances, interactive games, food and photo opportunities. Starlight Spokesperson Corbin Bleu received special recognition at the event for his work for Starlight, alongside four other young celebrities who represented other national charities.

In connection with the event, Variety hosted an online eBay auction and donated 100 percent of the auction proceeds to Starlight and LA'S BEST after school program, which resulted in a generous $100,000 gift to Starlight.

Versace US

Italian luxury fashion house Versace partnered with Starlight on a fashion/art-focused program called Art Unites, a global initiative aimed at providing needy children in the United States and China with the incomparable spirit, creativity, inspiration and solace that visual arts bestow.

As part of the Art Unites program, Versace provided canvas and art supplies to 500 children from Starlight and 900 children from One Foundation to create original drawings using the theme of "friendship." Each child's work of art was fashioned into a one-of-a-kind Versace canvas tote bag, and the bags were sold worldwide at Versace boutiques, select retailers and the Gilt Groupe, a members-only ecommerce site.

One hundred percent of the proceeds from the sale of the bags was donated in equal shares to Starlight and One Foundation.

Vivendi

Vivendi continued its generous support of Starlight with a $100,000 grant award through its Create Joy Fund to fund final production of the redesigned Starbright World. Vivendi's gift facilitated the incorporation of additional games, communication tools, and multi-language functionality, plus ongoing live hosting in the chat room — the heart of the Starbright World community. As the signature sponsor of Starbright World, Vivendi has been instrumental in helping us build a cutting-edge online social network that provides entertainment and support to seriously ill teens around the clock and across North America.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS

Headquarters

Starlight held its annual A Stellar Night gala, presented by California Pizza Kitchen, on Friday, March 19, 2010, at the Hyatt Regency Century Plaza in Los Angeles. Larry Flax and Rick Rosenfield, Co-Founders and Co-CEOs of California Pizza Kitchen, were recognized with the 2010 Heart of Gold Award and Noel R. Wallace, President of Colgate-Palmolive Company U.S., received the Jacki Carlish Humanitarian Award. The event raised $1.2 million in support of Starlight programs, including the placement of 28 Fun Centers in hospitals nationwide.

A Stellar Night was co-hosted by jazz great and Starlight Global Ambassador Dave Koz and actors and StarPower Ambassadors Chris and Kyle Massey, and featured live entertainment from the legendary Dionne Warwick and young recording artist Maddie Lauer. Starlight teens Spencer, Nikki and Emily inspired guests when they took to the stage to share their personal struggles with illness and how Starlight has made a difference.

Celebrated for its Kids' Lounge, which was this year sponsored by Nintendo of America Inc., A Stellar Night invited adult guests to bring their children and grandchildren to the event to teach them about the importance of philanthropy by sharing the impact that Starlight's programs have on families with seriously ill children. Many of Starlight's young and dedicated StarPower Ambassador celebrity supporters volunteered in the Nintendo Kids' Lounge, demonstrating the power of giving back and making the night even more memorable for Starlight's young guests. Those in attendance included: StarPower Spokesperson and actress Bailee Madison; actors Allen Alvarado, Ashley Argota, Jake T. Austin, Brennan Bailey, Preston Bailey, Devin Brochu, Field Cate, Jillian Clare, Tyler Foden, Devon Gearhart, Sammi Hanratty, Zane Huett, Nadji Jeter, Dominic Scott Kay, Nathan Kress, Peyton List, Joey Luthman, Kay Panabaker, Rob Pinkston, Haley Ramm, Rachel Sibner, Kaycee Stroh, Gregg Sulkin; and recording artists Austin Anderson and Ashlee Keating. The Nintendo Kids' Lounge also featured live musical performances by Savvy and Mandy and Kristy Frank.

Additional celebrity guests included former Dodgers baseball player Steve Garvey, renowned entertainer, composer and philanthropist Sheila E and long-time Starlight supporters Buzz Aldrin, Mr. T and Steve Schirripa.

Starlight is grateful to gala co-chairs and Starlight board members Carol Savoie, David Getson and John Rosenberg and to event sponsors: California Pizza Kitchen; Colgate-Palmolive Company; Michaels Stores, Inc.; Nintendo of America, Inc.; the Bickerstaff Family Foundation; Vivendi; Jeff, Carol and Becky Burch; The Walt Disney Company; Kaye Scholer LLP; Jackie Blatt, Ron Leibow, and Donna and Russ Cashdan; Insomniac Games; Lisa & Kevin Mayer; Morrison & Foerster LLP and Bobbi and Henry Fields; Latham & Watkins LLP and Joy and Bob Steinberg; PepsiCo, Inc.; Taddco "Images" Inc./TPP, Inc.; and Wyndham Hotel Group.

Arizona

Starlight Arizona held its annual Sparkling Starry Soirée on Saturday, March 13, 2010. The event attracted a crowd of more than 180 guests, raising more than $45,000 in support of Starlight programs in Arizona, including the placement of three Fun Center mobile entertainment units and one PC Pal laptop at local hospitals.

Guests were welcomed in an exclusive custom-built home by West Construction & Development in Silverleaf Estates where they enjoyed an intimate evening that included entertainment by acclaimed jazz and pop vocalist Alice Tatum, a silent auction accompanied by cocktails and champagne, and a light dinner from the event's presenting sponsor, California Pizza Kitchen.

Hosts Edward and Beth West joined event co-chairs Dr. Honora Norton and Mike Elert, and Starlight ambassador family Audrey, Peggy and Kirk Thoenens in naming Jim Piccolo, CEO of Nouveau Riche and the Frank Edward Piccolo Foundation, the recipient (and namesake) of this year's Jim Piccolo Humanitarian Award. Jim was honored for his extraordinary commitment to bettering the lives of seriously ill children nationally and across Arizona.

After an invigorating night filled with uplifting beats, dancing and good company, the event concluded with a live auction featuring one-of-a-kind packages.

Sparkling Starry Soirée was made possible by presenting sponsor California Pizza Kitchen; legacy sponsors Colgate-Palmolive Company and Maracay Homes; and 5-star power sponsors James and Colleen Edwards, Dr. Honora A. Norton and Michael R. Elert.

Florida

Presented by Credit Restoration Consultants and C. Davis Electric, Starlight Florida's 7th Annual Starlight Greater Open was held on Friday, October 30, 2009, at Jacaranda Golf & Country Club in Plantation, Florida. The event raised more than $67,000 to support Starlight programs.

Golfers enjoyed lunch and then hit the links, where they competed in prize-winning contests such as Hole in One, Longest Drive, putting contests and the "Are You Better Than a 5th Grade Golfer?" which featured 10-year-old golfers taking on the event participants. Golf was immediately followed by a dinner reception during which awards were presented to this year's winners.

"We are so proud of this tournament and all of the support we receive each year to help Starlight's programs for seriously ill children," said Renee Weintraub, Greater Open Chair. "It pleases us to host such a high quality event and keep the tournament appealing by offering new things each year, such as massages and stretching or fun goody items on the course."

Additional sponsorship was provided by Acai, Five Star Claims Adjusters, MS Cable & Wire Installations, JM Family Enterprises, Rexel, JD Backhoe, SEFL, Moody Electric, Toshiba Business Solutions, Joe DiMaggio Children's Hospital and Graybar.

Florida

Starlight Florida's 5th Annual Hats & Handbags, A Classic English Afternoon Tea raised $28,500 to support Florida's seriously children and their families. The event, presented by Colgate-Palmolive Company, took place Sunday, March 21, 2010, at the elegant Diplomat Golf Resort & Spa in Hallandale Beach. CBS4 Neighbors4Neighbors reporter Nicole Maristany served as emcee.

With nearly 225 women in attendance, the afternoon began with boutique shopping featuring beautiful, custom-made accessories and home goods such as jewelry, purses, crafts, glassware, candles, garden items, and wines, to name a few. After filling their shopping bags, guests dined on fabulous food and while sipping scrumptious teas and enjoyed live youth entertainment by a very talented young performer. Up and coming teen singer Joshua Grosso of American Heritage High School wowed the crowd with his vocal talents, singing Michael Bublé and Josh Groban hits. Starlight parent Patricia Parron and her daughter Lily also shared with the audience how Starlight has touched their lives and the positive impact the programs have had while they also deal with Lily's illness.

Joining Colgate-Palmolive in sponsorship were Baer's Furniture, Blue Martini, AutoNation, Rick Case Automotive Group, Les Diplomates of Fort Lauderdale, the Diplomat Golf Resort & Spa, Broward Health, Floridian Community Bank, PSAV Presentation Services and Best Rental Service.

Georgia

On Saturday, March 13, 2010, more than 200 guests dressed in black-tie attire turned out at the Mason Murer Fine Arts Gallery in Atlanta for A Stellar Night 2010's "Evening in Las Vegas."

Guests were made to feel as if they'd been transported to one of Las Vegas' finest casinos complete with exclusive shopping, craps, blackjack, roulette, Texas Hold'Em and five-star cuisine from Zeppelins Pasta House. Vegas-style entertainment was provided by the Mike Henry Band.

Young actors and Atlanta natives Kyle and Chris Massey served as the evening's hosts. In their roles as Starlight StarPower Ambassadors, the Massey brothers regularly commit their time and resources to helping Starlight families.

Texas

As presenting sponsor and event host, The Rosewood Crescent Hotel in Dallas again welcomed Starlight families and 165 Dallas-Fort Worth area supporters to Starlight Texas' 3rd Annual Holiday Party on Sunday, December 13, 2009.

The event featured an array of fun activities for the whole family including a live cooking demo by Darren McGrady, The Royal Chef™, who served Princess Diana for four years after serving at Buckingham Palace as senior chef for 11 years. Attendees also had the chance to visit Santa's workshop to place hearts in Build-A-Bear Workshop teddy bears to be given to seriously ill children, browse the teapot (silent auction) sale featuring teapots decorated by Starlight families, and enjoy sweet treats, tea and hot cocoa.

Starlight child Crysta joined Darren on stage as he demonstrated the making of traditional Scottish shortbread. Crysta (who wants to be a chef) was presented with her very own personalized chef jacket.

"When Mr. McGrady said I did a marvelous job, I felt like I was blessed," said Crysta. "I felt so happy and was grateful to everyone who told me how well I did. When Starlight gave me a bear from Build-A-Bear Workshop, I named him McGrady!"

The event raised more than $15,000 to support the Great Escapes program in Texas.
