

Travelers on the street of dreams

John Carroll's Hollywood gang has and is making more than a little difference in the TV and film industry. Writer/producer Charlie Hauck '63 was the executive producer of shows like Maude and Home Improvement. Charlie wrote a novel called Artistic Differences, which is being made into a ShowTime movie. Jack Riley '59 became a household face when he played Mr. Carlin on the Bob

Newhart Show. Since then, while he's often been on-camera, the Lakewood, Ohio, native has been most familiar as a voice in broadcasting and advertising. Brian Donovan '89 is following in Riley's phonemes by building a solid career in voice-over work. Donovan, who emceed last year's Reunion, also does on-camera work, and he's starring in a soon-to-be-released Brazilian film.

Jim Kristoff '72 is founder and president of MetroLight Studios, a computer animation wizard's workshop, which won the Oscar – that Oscar – for visual effects in Total Recall. Tom Tardio '73 is the CEO of Rogers & Cowan, Inc., a powerhouse PR firm that's a force in the movie industry.
